According to local lore, the city of “Bridge Fort” only became Bridgeport due to a map-maker’s error – but contacting Jackson Kelly’s Bridgeport office would not be a mistake. Conveniently located off I-79 in the White Oaks Business Park, the Bridgeport office is home to a group of experienced attorneys with hometown ties to the community. Located in the north-central region of West Virginia, attorneys in this office work closely with attorneys throughout the Firm to serve clients locally and across the country, offering a broad range of high-quality legal services and representation.

The Bridgeport office focuses on a variety of practices and industries, including business, litigation, real estate, succession planning, trusts and estates, and workers’ compensation.
