Elena Coole is an Associate practicing in the Litigation Practice group, focusing primarily on general litigation. She practices out of the Firm's office in Charleston, West Virginia.

Elena brings experience and diversity to her clients that is often not found in young attorneys. She has spent time clerking for multiple judges, working with the West Virginia Law Review, Environmental Law Society, the Health Law Society, and more.

Her experience includes drafting agreements, data entry, writing motions, memorandums, and conducting research.

She takes her commitment to her community and civic organizations seriously. Elena is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union and the Women's Leadership Council.

Beyond these organizations, Elena loves to travel, read, bake, rock climb, gardening, and many more outdoor activities.
