Lindsay D. Petrosky is a Member in the Health Care industry group, representing healthcare providers in a variety of transactions, including acquisitions, restructuring, financing, and related due diligence. Lindsay also advises her clients on regulatory and corporate governance matters. Lindsay is Vice-Chair of the Executive Committee and practices out of the Firm's office in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Lindsay takes the lead in working with hospitals and health systems on legal issues related to the acquisition of community hospitals and physician practices. These transactions range from member substitutions for non-profit health care entities, to long-term operating lease arrangements, to asset sales. She starts with her clients at the letter of intent stage all the way through the completion of the transaction performing due diligence and managing the regulatory framework to facilitate all necessary approvals for closing.

Recent examples of Lindsay's work range from a health system-wide governance restructuring to a large-scale transaction and restructuring of the relationship between a medical school and community hospital.

Lindsay also focuses on the day-to-day issues faced by health systems, community hospitals, and other health care providers, frequently advising clients on general business and governance issues, regulatory, operational, and compliance questions involving HIPAA, Stark, Anti-Kickback Statute, and other state and federal laws, as well as Certificate of Need and professional board issues. Lindsay advises her clients through the process of compliance reviews including self-disclosures and the settlement process with government agencies. She has also led the team serving as a legal independent review organization for health care providers who are subject to corporate integrity agreements.

Lindsay loves working with her clients and other members of the health care team because, for her, it's all about interacting with other hard working, dedicated, and fun people like herself. She puts a personal stake in her ability to represent her clients, and believes the best feeling is getting a positive result for those clients and then celebrating with her team.

Lindsay and her family call Pennsylvania home not too far from where she grew up rooting for the Steelers, exploring in the Allegheny National Forest, and boating on the Allegheny River.

After more than a decade with Jackson Kelly, there is nowhere else Lindsay would rather be. The client-centered, community-focused, and family-friendly atmosphere of the Firm allows her to give the best representation to her clients, serve her team adequately, and genuinely enjoy coming to work every morning.
