Neil C. Brown is a Member in the Health Care industry group, focusing primarily on health care regulatory issues and mergers and acquisitions. He practices out of the Firm's office in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

From hospital systems to small practices, Neil is dedicated to helping health care industry clients achieve their goals. He provides advice to clients on regulatory and operational questions involving information privacy and security, health care fraud and abuse, Medicare and Medicaid, and other matters pertaining to compliance with federal and state health care laws. Neil also advocates on behalf of his clients in front of the West Virginia Health Care Authority and appellate tribunals, with a focus on litigating Certificate of Need cases. Neil's corporate and transactional practice includes conducting large-scale due diligence of health care entities, as well as advising clients on general business, contract, and corporate law matters.

One of Neil's favorite aspects of being with Jackson Kelly is the ability to collaborate on a daily basis with the Firm's network of attorneys across diverse practice areas. Neil is always looking for an opportunity to create innovative and effective solutions and has a proven track record of going above and beyond to deliver stellar results. He is happy to have the opportunity to do what he loves – efficiently solve problems, and since his clients get to benefit from his hard work, it's truly a win-win.

In his spare time, Neil enjoys spending time with his wife and his dog, Lily.
